

TSX ETF Report

The first quarter of 2017 was a busy period for the ETF sector on TSX as 23 new ETFs were launched by seven different providers. The following report contains information on the growth of the TSX ETF sector over the last quarter.

NEW PROVIDER

powered by AGFiQ

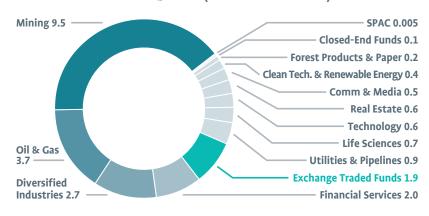

AGF Investments Inc. has entered the Canadian ETF marketplace with seven new exchange traded funds (ETFs) – four enhanced core options and three multi-asset portfolio solutions designed to deliver better risk-adjusted returns, all of which are actively managed by AGFiQ Asset Management using quantitative research to deliver a disciplined and repeatable outcome. Launched on January 30, the suite of factor-based products provides access to a wide variety of market exposures and desired investor goals, ranging from tactical alternative access to equities, active risk-mitigation strategies, and innovative income-generating solutions.

NEWLY LAUNCHED: ACCUMULATING UNITS

Recently launched by BMO ETFs, Accumulating Units (ETF symbol extension:.L) provide a new approach to distributions on fixed income ETFs. Distributions in respect of the Accumulating Units will be automatically reinvested in Accumulating Units of their respective ETFs. These new units allow investors to see the total return of the ETF by simply looking at the performance of the NAV. Following each distribution, the number of outstanding Accumulating Units of the respective ETF will be immediately consolidated so that the number of outstanding Accumulating Units of the ETFs is the same as the number of outstanding Accumulating Units before the distribution.
